Requirements for Delivery of Alcoholic Beverages

Detailed below are some guidelines for licensed retailers on how they can deliver beer and wine products to customers not located on their licensed premise:

- All transactions, when alcohol is sold, must be pre-paid and take place on the licensed premise and be conducted by an employee of the licensee over the age of nineteen (19) years. (See I.C. 23-943)
- The delivery person must be over the age of nineteen (19) years. (See I.C. 23-1013)
- All transactions must be paid for by credit/debit card.
- No money may exchange between the delivery person and the customer upon delivery. This includes tips, surcharges, gratuities, service charges and the like.
- Upon delivery, the deliverer must verify that the person on the credit/debit card matches the person accepting the alcohol delivery and that the person is over twenty-one (21) years of age.
- Verification must be completed through approved means as stated in Idaho Code 23-1013.
- Only beer and wine may be delivered. No liquor may be sold or delivered.
- In addition, contact your city and county licensing authorities to determine if there are any further restrictions on the sale of alcohol.
